

Friday, November 18, 2005

Nauticus, The National Maritime Center

7:30 am - 5:00 pm Registration Desk Open

9:00 - 10:00 am Keynote Presentation: Dr. Robert Ballard in the Nauticus Theater

10:00 - 10:25 am Break and Refreshments

	Conference Room	NOAA Classroom	Navy League 1	Navy League 2
10:30 - 11:10 am	Maritime Heritage Interpretation at the Stellwagen Bank National Marine Sanctuary	Successful Strategies for Engaging Families	Education Programs aboard the Schooner Virginia	Boat-in-a-Day: Hands on Education for All the Family
11:25 am - 12:00 pm	Educational Diver Program on the Queen Anne's Revenge - Blackbeard's Flagship	More Than Just Marine Debris: Massachusetts' Shoreline Heritage Identification Partners - SHIPS	The Periauger Project	Spirits of the Passage: Lessons from the Wreck of the Slave Ship the Henrietta Marie
12:00 - 1:00 pm	Lunch — gourmet box lunches are available for pick up in the Forecastle Gallery
1:00 - 2:00 pm	Teaching Maritime Heritage Through the Arts Roundtable in Theater
2:10 - 2:55 pm	Ancient Mariners: Horseshoe Crabs, the Birds and the Baymen	The Button Wreck: Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary	Child's Play: Learning About Underwater Archaeology Online	Boatbuilding in Key West: Past and Future
3:00 - 3:40 pm	The Porpoise Factory of Hatteras Island	The Russian-American Company Ship Kad'yak: Outreach and Public School Education in Alaska	The North Carolina Shipwreck Survey Project: Public Outreach and Graduate Education

3:45 pm Buses depart in front of Nauticus for The Mariners' Museum

5:00 pm Tour of The Mariners' Museum (sponsored by the Monitor National Marine Sanctuary)

6:00 pm Hors D'oeuvres and Entertainment

7:30 pm Buses return to Nauticus

8:30 pm Arrive at Nauticus

Saturday, November 19, 2005

Nauticus, The National Maritime Center

8:30 - 9:00 am

Breakfast in Forecastle Gallery

	Conference Room	NOAA Classroom	Navy League 1	Navy League 2
9:00 - 9:40 am	Our Whaling Heritage: Where Away?	Looking Over the Archaeologist's Shoulder	Florida's Maritime Heritage Trail	Building a New Generation of Preservationists Through the Education of Youth
10:00 - 10:40 am	The Sinking of the Edmund Fitzgerald: The ship, the storm, and the song	Interpretive Connections to the American Public through Underwater National Park Resources	Maritime Heritage Education and the Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary	Charting a Course: The Lightship Life
11:10 am - 12:00 pm	U.S.S. Alligator Roundtable Meet in theater	Getting Paid Twice: Finding Innovative Ways to Use Archaeological Research for Public Outreach	History is the Real Treasure: The 1733 Spanish Galleon Trail

12:00 - 1:00 pm

Lunch — gourmet box lunches are available for pick up in the Forecastle Gallery

1:00 - 2:00 pm

Informal and Formal Maritime Heritage Education Connections* Roundtable in Theater

1:00 - 1:30 pm

Lake Mead's Cold War Legacy — The Lost B-29 Bomber (Conference Room)

1:30 - 2:00 pm

Poised and Frozen in Time: the Japanese Midget Sub (Conference Room)

2:15 - 3:00 pm	Portals to Learning: Tried and True to Hip and New	Flooding Trenches: Academic Archaeology and Professional Practice in the Training of Maritime Archaeologists	Waterfront Industries in Our Backyard	The Navy and Marine Living History Association: Teaching Naval History in the Field — Literally
-----------------------	---	---	--	--

3:15 pm

Meet at the Spirit of Norfolk in Norfolk Harbor

4:00 - 7:00 pm

Spirit of Norfolk Dinner Cruise

Head for Norfolk's Waterside and step aboard the Spirit of Norfolk for unparalleled cruising fun on the historic Elizabeth River. You'll dine, dance, enjoy star-quality entertainers and exciting skyline views including the Navy's Atlantic Fleet on this Norfolk cruise ship. Our group will celebrate the opening of the winter holiday season as Norfolk lights the skyline. The best view of the holiday lights is from the water!

Sunday, November 20, 2005

Nauticus, The National Maritime Center

8:30 - 9:00 am Breakfast in the Forecastle Gallery

	Conference Room	NOAA Classroom	Navy League 1	Navy League 2
9:00 - 9:40 am	Connecting Teachers and Museums	Explore the Past and Present USS Monitor	Arts of a Seafarer	The Key to the Silent World
10:00 - 10:40 am	Summer Science School – Learning Fun Programs Based on Maritime History and the Coastal Natural History of N. Carolina	Mapping the Other 70%: Envisioning the Seafloor	Inspiration through Archaeology: Training and Initiatives in Fostering Opportunities for Emotional, Intellectual, and Artistic Connections to Resource Meanings
11:15 - 12:00 pm	A Deep Understanding – A Collaborative Distance Learning Expedition with Pier Wisconsin and Thunder Bay National Marine Sanctuary	Oysters and Origin: The Roots of the National Marine Sanctuaries in the Oyster Bed Maps of the U.S. Coast Survey	The Pirate-Dredger's Doom: Politics, Pirates, and a “Little Travesty” on the Lower Chesapeake Bay, 1882-1883

12:00 - 1:00 pm Lunch – gourmet box lunches are available for pick up in the Forecastle Gallery

1:00 - 1:40 pm	Battleship Education Aboard the USS Wisconsin Meet at Forecastle Gallery	Education and Maritime Heritage	Navigating the Waters, Navigating the Web	Planning Programs
-----------------------	---	---------------------------------	---	-------------------

1:40 - 2:00 pm Break

2:00 - 3:00 pm Closing Plenary: Dr. Caroline Joyce in Nauticus Theater
Pulling it Together: Make Maritime Heritage Education Work for You!

Thursday, November 17, 2005

Nauticus, The National Maritime Center

3:00 - 5:00 pm

Conference Registration Opens

5:00 - 7:00 pm

Wine and Hors D'oeuvres Reception